

● How Clawd answers a message

From the user's chat to an AI reply – five steps, all behind the scenes, typically a few seconds.

• How we ship updates safely

Two independent lanes. The AI brain and the messaging layer deploy separately, so a change to one never risks the other.

Every deploy is verified live before it's considered done · roll back to the previous version in one command if needed.